Leonardo Electronic Almanac Volume 14 (January–July 2006)

For over a decade, Leonardo Electronic Almanac (LEA) (ISSN No: 1071-4391) has thrived as an international peer-reviewed electronic journal and web archive covering the interaction of the arts, sciences and technology. LEA emphasizes rapid publication of recent work and critical discussion on topics of current interest with a slant on shorter, less academic texts. Many contributors are younger scholars, artists, scientists, educators and developers of new technological resources in the media arts. Contents include profiles of media arts facilities and projects, insights of artists using new media and feature articles comprising theoretical and technical perspectives. Curated galleries of current new media artwork are also a regular feature, and occasionally, LEA publishes special issues on topics such as locative media, new media poetics, and wild nature and the digital life. LEA is produced by Leonardo/The International Society for the Arts, Sciences and Technology (ISAST) under the editorship of Nisar Keshvani.

This index covers the period of January 2006 through July 2006. Due to differing production schedules, LMJ cannot include the full 2006 LEA index; however, the index will be posted online and updated through the rest of the year at <lealmanac.org>, with links to the articles.
